This grant provides funds to assist public libraries in creating or redesigning their website and can include the cost of the domain as well as the actual website work. Our hope is that with this, your library can have a friendly, easy to access portal sharing all the great things that you are doing for and in your community.

Notes: This funding is not available to pay existing staff or those affiliated with the library.
If a domain is requested, it will have to be prorated to meet the contract start and end dates.

Materials

Digital materials

The circulation of digital materials is on the rise. The funding for this part of the grant can be used for the purchase of e-books, e-audio, Playaway devices, etc. that are intended for circulation to the public. For those that are purchasing through OverDrive for inclusion into READS, you will have to sign up for an Advantage plan if you don't already have one.

Please note that this grant will have a start date of July 1st, so purchases from that date forward can be put towards this grant. List of individual titles that you plan to order are not necessary at this time, the amount requested towards purchasing materials is all that is needed.

Note: Time-based metered access is not eligible, but checkout-limited access titles are eligible.

For example, a title that can only be access for a set amount of time such as 1 year would be considered time-based metered access and would therefore be ineligible. However, a title which will expire after a set number of circulations is eligible.

Physical materials

While digital materials have become increasingly in demand in public libraries, there is still one for physical materials. Grant funds can be used for the purchase of print materials and physical audio/video. Unlike most federal funding for materials, you are not limited by a specific format or material type, so you are welcome to order what your community would like to have access to from fiction to genealogy as well as large print, children's books, etc.

Since the grant contract starts on July 1st, purchases from that date forward can be reimbursed through this grant.
